My name is Jack and I just moved to Walterboro with my parents. They bought our family a new house from Shannon Guess at REMAX Southern Real Estate. They closed on our house yesterday. Shannon found us the perfect home with a big back yard that I can play in.

My dad has a lot of errands to run today, and it is also Mom's birthday.

RE/MAX
SOUTHERN REAL ESTATE

Our first stop was at American Insurance Center, LLC. Dad said we need to enroll in health insurance and to start a life insurance policy. Teresa and Sonny were very nice and helpful. They took care of everything for us.

Dad needed a new lawnmower, so we went to Lowcountry Equipment LLC to pick out a new Exmark. Phil Breland showed us several models. We could even get a Carolina or Clemson seat on it. While we were there, Dad looked at a Mahindra tractor and trailer package. I think he will buy it soon.

Equipment

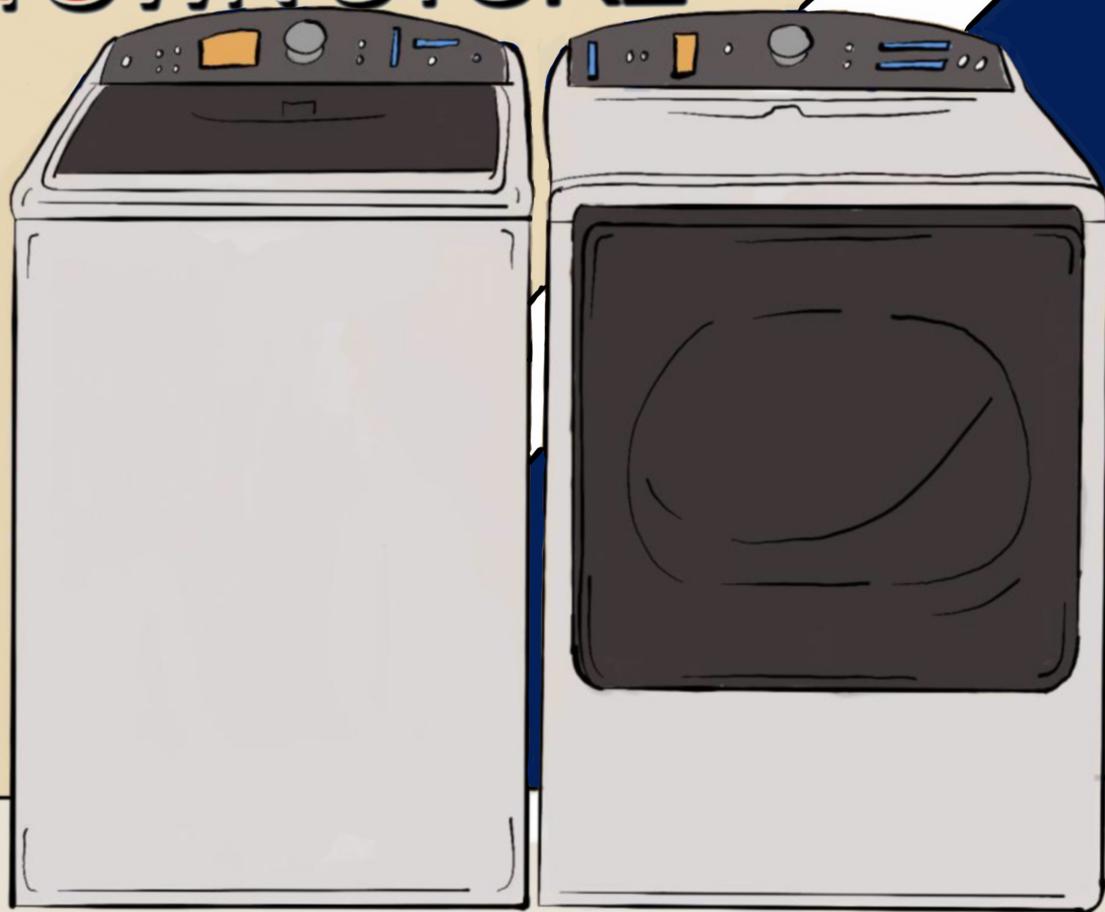

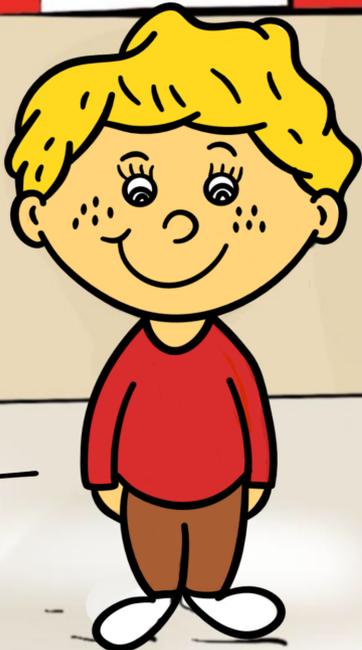

Dad said he needed to change the oil in his truck so we stopped by Dixie Auto Parts to pick up supplies. Geoffrey was really cool! He looked up part numbers on his computer, to be certain we had the correct oil filter and oil.

Mom really needs a washer and dryer for our new house. We drove to Sears of Waltherboro. I discovered the Sears here in Waltherboro is locally owned. Dad had a hard time deciding, because Sears had such a wide selection. Mrs. Teresa, the owner, helped us find the perfect set for mom.

HOMETOWN STORE

Since it's Mom's birthday, Dad took me to Infingers Jewelry to pick out a special gift for her. Mack and Mrs. Helen showed me really pretty necklaces and rings. Mack said he could design something especially for my mom. Mack makes custom jewelry. We bought her the perfect necklace with my birthstone in it.

After we left Infingers, we stopped by The Padgett Agency to pay our car insurance. Ericka gave us the best quotes in town. Her mom, Mrs. Deborah and her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Anne also have The Cannady Agency in the same building. They are all located in the old historic post office building built in 1937 and located on Main Street.

PADGETT INSURANCE AGENCY

Once my dad and I left The Padgett Agency, I spotted the The Colleton Museum and Farmers Market around the corner from Main Street. I asked my dad if we could stop and visit. Dad and I were both really excited to see what was inside. The museum had a deli counter and a wonderful store. After walking around and looking at all the neat souvenirs. The museum curator came over and asked us if we would like to take a tour. He was very knowledgeable about Colleton County history. My favorite item in the whole museum was the US Mail bicycle, and Post Master desk. Since we had just left The Old Post Office building, I imagined a postman on that same bike, leaving there to go deliver the mail. Did you know that Walterboro (originally spelled "Walterborough") was once known as Hickory Valley?

Next we wanted to go to Palmetto Rural Telephone Cooperative to sign up for internet, phone and cable service. Jennifer was so nice and very helpful. We received a great deal on a bundle package. I can't wait to watch my favorite shows in our new home.

When we got back in my dad's truck, I asked him if I could paint my new bedroom. He said that I could, so we drove to Westbury's Ace Hardware. Katrina and George helped me find the perfect color. It was the same color of my favorite toy. They matched it perfectly.

Dad had an appointment to get his windshield replaced at Auto Glass Masters. It is in the same big green building as Thrift Masters on Hwy. 15. While dad was talking to Mike, I decided to go check out all the trinkets and treasures inside Thrift Masters. I found Mom the perfect picture for a wall in our new house.

Dad said we had to hurry and get home because Lowcounty Tree and Limb, LLC was coming to remove a dead tree in our front yard. Steven Harrison has a really big truck with a bucket that went way up in the air. The man with the chainsaw cut the tree down in a very short time. When they were done, they cleaned up all the limbs. Our yard looks really nice.

Mom and Dad love banking at the Bank of Walterboro and I always get some candy when I visit. The bank has four locations. Today, we went to the main office on Jefferies Blvd. to open a savings account. Annette was very helpful. She is the head teller and has worked at the bank for 16 years. I cannot wait until I can open my own account there.

There is always so much to see when our family visits the S.C. Artisan's Center. Mom and Dad collect coffee mugs and pottery and I love looking at the pictures painted by artists from all over the state. While Mom and Dad shopped, I explored the new front porch and bounced on the juggling board. Mrs. Gale helped me pick out a vase for Mom's birthday. Art is my favorite subject at school. Maybe I can sell my paintings there one day.

Uh-oh, we've got a flat tire. We've been having so much fun, I hope this doesn't ruin our day. Dad says, "Relax. Don't worry. The folks at Pee Dee's Tire can help." We were able to drive to see Pee Dee and Dad was right. They got our tire fixed and had us going right away. Dad said Pee Dee always has fast, friendly service and great prices. Dad thanked him for getting it done so quickly.

Grocery shopping is always fun at Foodland. Dad loves their fresh meat and Mom loves their convenient location. She always comments about how friendly the staff is to her. I'm a little too big to ride in the buggy like I used to, but I get to choose a surprise if I help Mom pick out the groceries. Today, I really wanted fried chicken for dinner, so we went to H&D to buy the best fried chicken in town.

For as long as I can remember, Mom and Dad have been taking their clothes to Sentry Cleaners of Waltherboro, Inc. If our dry cleaning is at Sentry by 10 o'clock in the morning, it will be ready at 4 in the afternoon for us to pick up. And they have a drive-up window that is very convenient. Dad said they also clean floors and carpets. He'll need to make an appointment after my friends and I play on the carpets in our new house.

My dad and I stopped by Pruitt Health Care, and visited the residents. We brought them all a big box of cookies to share. I met Mrs. Daisy and she was so nice. She told me a wonderful story about when she was a little girl. I asked Dad if we could visit our new friends again very soon.

Mom and Dad took me to Premier's Riding School to see Mrs. Pam Sheaf. They signed me up for horseback riding lessons and vaulting. Vaulting is gymnastics on a horse's back. I met the vaulting horse Xenia. She is a Percheron, a breed of draft horse. Her hooves are huge.

Dad wanted to stop by and visit his friend Jim at Owsley Supply. He says Mr. Owsley knows everything about heating and air conditioning for our home. Today, Dad is going to get some references for contractors to do some work at our new house. Dad says that picking a contractor is sometimes hard, but he trusts Mr. Owsley's opinion.

After we left Owsley's, Dad said we had one more place to go before we picked Mom up for dinner. Dad loves reading the newspaper with his morning coffee. We stopped by The Press and Standard office so dad could sign up for a yearly subscription. Everyone was so nice, and Rhonda helped Dad set up the delivery, and we were entered in to their monthly promotion drawing.

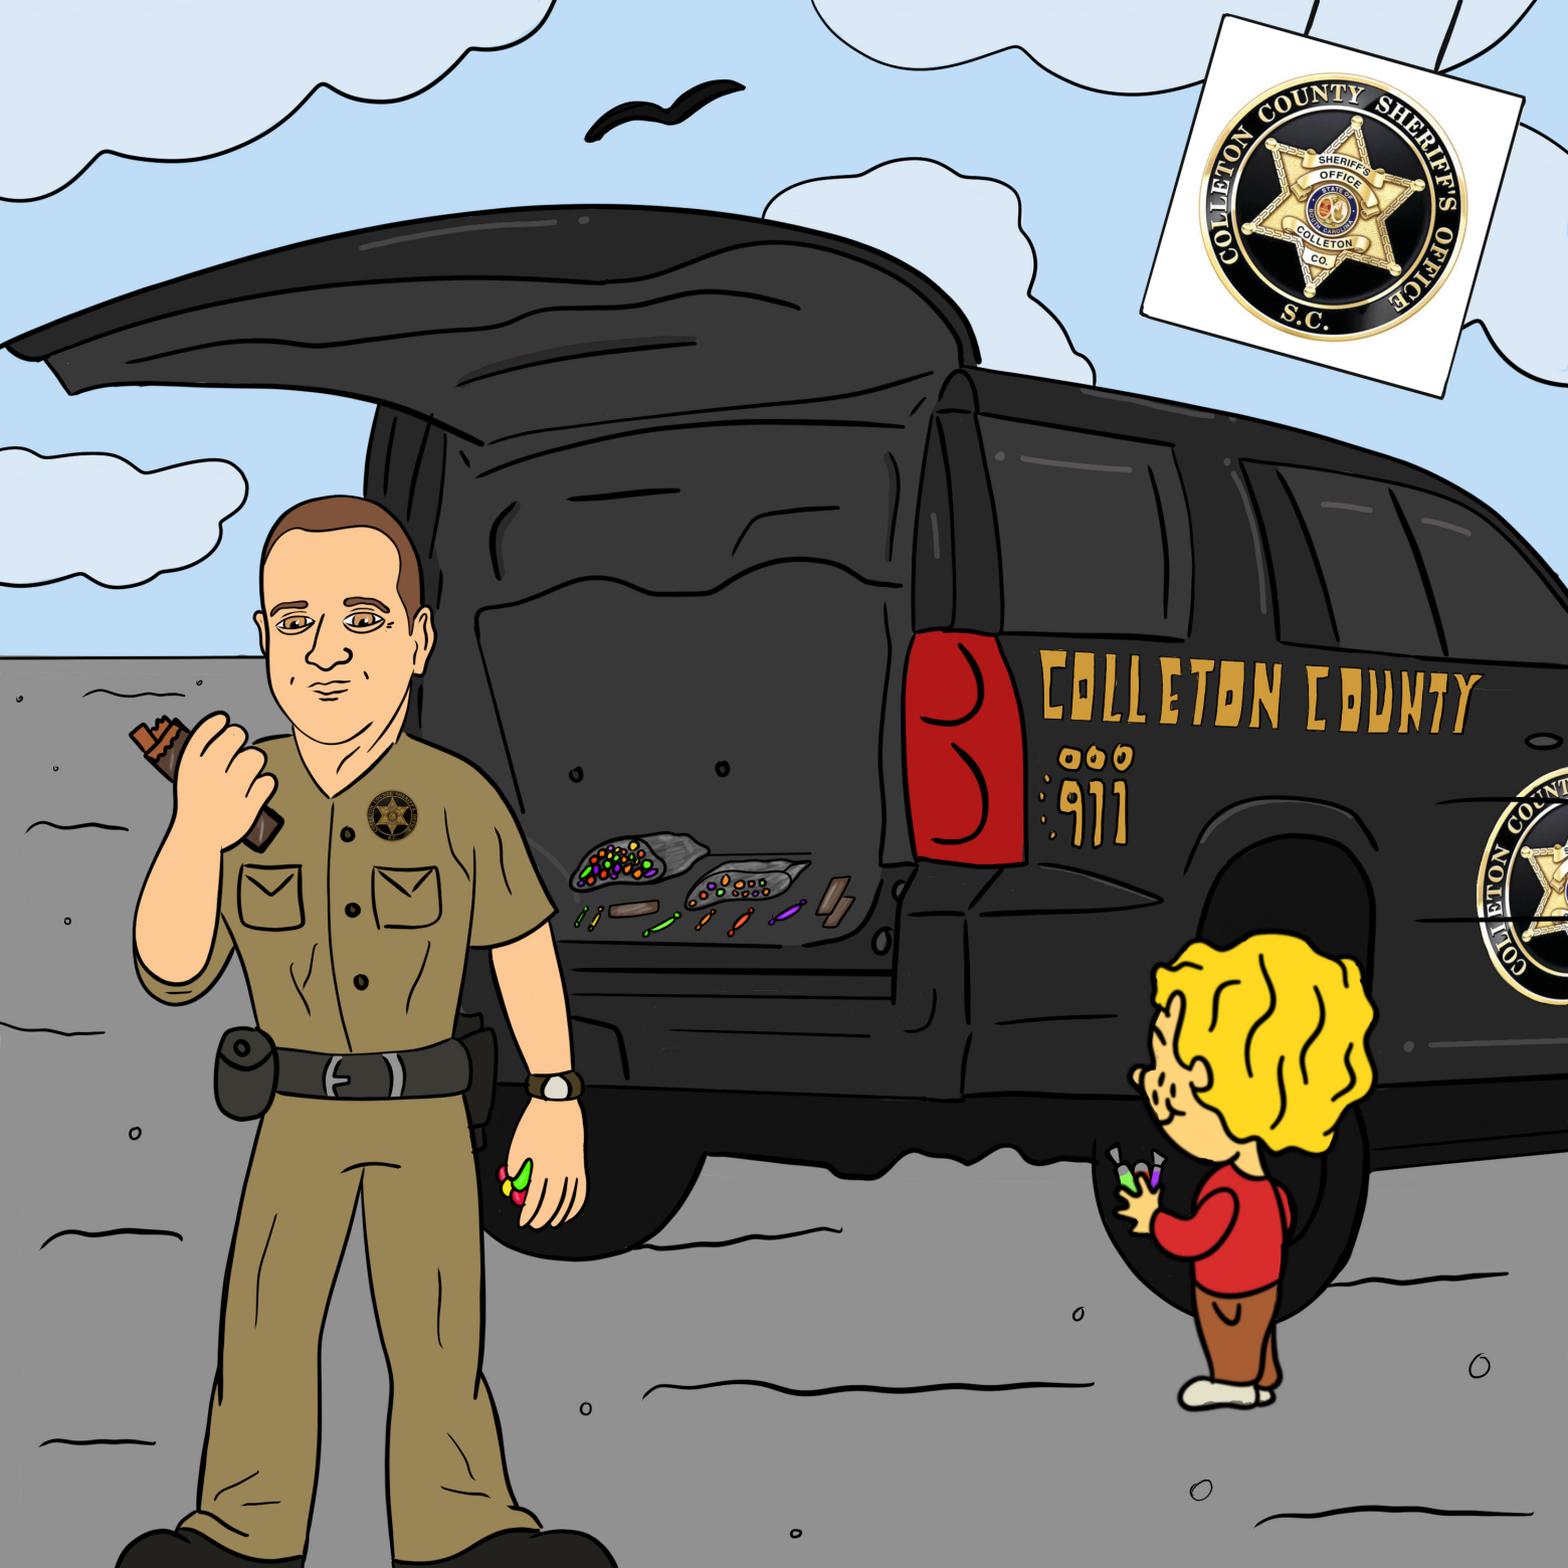

The Press

For mom's birthday we went to eat at Fat Jack's Grillin' and Chillin'. Mom and Dad both had Jack's famous steaks. I had a hamburger and sweet potato fries. It was really good. I can't wait to go back again.

On the way home, we ran into Sheriff R.A. Strickland. He told me to always be good and listen to my parents. He gave me all sorts of goodies from the trunk of his patrol car. I want to be sheriff when I grow up so I can help people too.
